Dear Engr. Rago,

I have not conducted the faculty assessment in time due to troublesome and serious family matters whose merits I could not divulge to any person outside my family without consent from any of them. Such matters had distraught me emotionally and physically, to the point that I have not complied with any school work or university matters required at such time period.

These matters, confidential in nature, eventually led me to live together with my family and, thus, a school transfer is immediately sought, which also requires a certificate of Good Moral Character to accomplish. The said faculty assessment, which I hadn't made, blocked the claim of the said certificate.

I personally thank you for your careful consideration and utmost understanding for this matter.

Sincerely yours,

Stephen Christian Magsayo
